To whom it may concern:

Carol A. Dabb, Inc., Art Consultants was established in 1986. My business is located in California's Silicon Valley. I've worked with many corporate, commercial and healthcare companies there. My firm offers art acquisition, exhibition and advisory services to corporations, businesses, architects, developers and private individuals. I specialize in businesses interested in using art to enhance the workplace, project their image and corporate culture, as well as enrich employee surroundings and stimulate productivity.

The firm maintains a significant network of resources for art works, whether it be for acquisition, exhibition or site specific commissions. Please visit my website at www.cdabbart.com for a complete survey of the services and accomplishments of my firm as well as a list of some of my corporate clients.

Artist and sculptor, ROGER ARVID ANDERSON, has been one of my most popular artists. Since 1986 ANDERSON has been a featured artist or a selected artist in groups shows at several corporations, including Hitachi Data Systems, Cadence Design Systems, Quantum Corporation, 3Com and Syntex Corporation. At my encouragement ANDERSON submitted his art and was selected to exhibit in the juried competition, PLAZA ART 92, for the City of Mountain View, CA. His sculpture, "Storm Lord", won a city purchase award and is now on permanent view in City Hall.

One of my clients, then CFO for Hewlett Packard Corporation, on my recommendation, commissioned ANDERSON to create and fabricate a giant double-sided disc mounted on a plinth for his residence. The sculpture is called the "Wayman Disc". The scope of this project required crane and crew on the property. At all stages of design, development, casting and installation, ANDERSON worked in a most professional and pleasant manner. All time schedules were met and done within budget, to the client's satisfaction. An image of this piece can be viewed on ANDERSON'S website in the gallery called Metaphysical Landscapes.

It is my pleasure to recommend ROGER ARVID ANDERSON to you as one of the most talented and experienced cast bronze artists I know. His attention to detail and quality is both consistent and exemplary. He works well with people and is open to ideas and suggestions. He is reliable and communicative. He also understands the importance of budgets, time-lines and working within parameters.

Sincerely yours,

Carol Dabb
